Fine Progress at Night School. Fine Progress at Night School.

The attendance at the night school during the present month has averaged between 40 and 50 students. Fine progress has been made by the students, who evince an extraordinary desire to gain knowledge, and their constant and unremitting work should be an inapiration for some of the day pupils to pay closer attention to their studies while their opportunity remains.

A new industry has sprung up in Killingly during the past few weeks—the manufacture of bags for use in shipping packages by parcel post. There are probably hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over 20 years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering. blix one pint of granulated angar with be pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Piner (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful svery one, two or three hours.

You will find that this simple remay takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually ends a deep seated cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, croup, cheet pains, broncht tis and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly lax ative, which helps end a cough.

This recipe makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasantly.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in gualacol and all the natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This plan of making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equaled.

SEWER ASSESSMENT FIGURES. Cause Some Surprise When Given Out -Committee Explains Action and Makes Recommendations.

There was some mighty interesting studying of the sewer assessment fig-ures compiled by a special committee of the common council, with the as-sistance of competent engineers, when into the hands of property owners the figures were released and some affected were surprised at the amounts Wednesday afternoon.

Provision has also been made for a hearing by the common council at which all persons interested in rela-tion to the assessments appear and be

In their report to the common council as a committee thereof Aldermen G. Allen Hawkins, Dr. Omer Larue and John A. Dady among other interesting facts set forth the following:

The committee find that the amount of money already expended on the sewers and necessary rights and appurtenances is $104,238.41. Under contracts for sewers the sum of $293.67 will be due May 10, and a belance of $2.795.58 was due November 10, 1911, but on account of pending legislation has not been paid. The sum of the above contracts is $107,-387.61. 387.61.

Your committee has given much time and thought to the question of the most equitable method of distributing the cost of the sewers among the parties specifically benefited. The the parties specifically benefited. The methods employed in other cities of the state have been carefully studied. These methods are of all kinds—from ham's Vegetable those that assess practically the whole blood Purifier have cost on those specially benefited to those that place the burden wholly on the general taxpayer.

The portion assessed to those specifically benefited is distributed in many ways by different cities. In some cities it is divided in direct proportion to the lineal feet of land abutting on the severe regardless of the denth or cities it is divided in direct proportion to the lineal feet of land abutting on the sewers, regardless of the depth or shape of the land. There has been a decision of the Connecticut supreme court that this method is not lawful. Several cities apportion a certain amount of each lineal foot abutting on the sewer and each square foot of land within a specified distance, such as 100 feet, from the street where a sewer has been laid.

Your committee believes that it would be reasonable for those specifically benefited to pay about three-quarters of the sum already paid by the city for the sewers and that due at specified dates. Your committee is of the opinion that such lineal foot of land abutting on the sewers should be assussed ten cents and each sewer should be assussed inne mills.

In order to privide for various irregular cases your committee thinks the above rule should be modified as follows:

1. Each square foot of land beyond and within one hundred feet of the Father Hayes delivered one of the finest eulogies that could have been given. He quoted the passage in Proverbs which says the faithful man shall be much praised. Mr. Driscoil's whole life was characterized by fidelity to this ideal of duty. In his church relations he showed a childlike trust in God. He was ever ready to promote any enterwas ever ready to promote any enter-prise which would be a moral benefit. A suggestion he made at the last Holy Name society which he attended was that it would be a good plan to form a junior branch of the society, and the plan will be adopted later.

How Can the People Decide Which Medicine Is Best?

S. B. HARTMAN, M. D.

Columbus, Ohio. One of my readers writes me in part as follows. He says:

"I like your idea as expressed in your last article as to how we may become sure we are right in matters of religion and medicine. Experience is our only guide. Now, as to the best way of getting this experience, you did not give any definite instruction. Take my case for instance.

am a man of family. And while we just as good medicines in the drug try to live properly, yet we are subject to disease and derangements like other people. Occasionally we have to use drugs. What would you advise?"

Wise?"

My reply, in part, was as follows:
Let us suppose it was a cough, or a common cold, or a hoarseness, or a pain in the chest, or a twinge of rheumatism, or a stoppage of the nose and discharge from the throat, indicating catarrh.

What you are after is, first, to cure yourself of your trouble; and, second, to gain experience so that you may cure yourself next time, if you or any member of your family should be so affilted.

If you go to the drug store you buy be so afflicted.

If you go to the drug store you buy Peruna. If it cures you then you know what to get next time. If it does not cure you and it proves to be worthless, you know what to avoid.

In taking advertised medicines that have a definite name you are gradually learning to distinguish between those remedies that help and those that do not.

If a neighbor in whom I have considence should tell me that they have purchased a bottle of some advertised medicine that helped them. I should feel perfectly free to give the medicine a trial. And if I found that the advertised medicine cured me I should not hesitate to tell my neighbors about it. I should not hesitate to have my name published either, as testifying to the merits of such a medicine. Nothing short of this would be justice. Nothing less than this would be honest.

The prejudice against advertised medicines may have had some foundation in the past. But up to date I oan conscientiously say that there are independent of the saying to keep free from debt and disease, I should certainly keep a bettime. No. 53,

One person takes Peruna and is cured of a cough, or cold, or catarrh, lung disease or kidney disease, or stomach disease. Some one of these derangements which perhaps the doctors have failed to cure. Peruna relieves. He tells his neighbor about it. His neighbor tries it for the same numbers and is cured also. He again purpose and is cured also. He again tells it, and so the news is spread. Yes, I mean to put myself on record as saying it is from the experience of the common people that we must expect to sift out the genuine remedies from the many spurious
